

For Immediate Release

TCA ARSHAG DICKRANIAN ARMENIAN SCHOOL
1200 CAHUENGA BLVD. LOS ANGELES, CA 90038

TCA Arshag Dickranian School Holds Its 28th Graduation Ball For Students and Their Families

Los Angeles, June 22, 2009 - TCA Arshag Dickranian School held a lovely graduation ball to celebrate the graduation of its students from High School and Middle School, on Saturday June 20th 2009 at 7:30 p.m. The ball took place at the school's Walter and Laurel Karabian Hall, where the families and friends of the graduating students gathered to enjoy a night of dinner, dance and celebration.

After the first portion of the evening in which graduating students had their pictures taken, Mr. Vatche Semerdjian, who is the homeroom teacher of the eighth grade, introduced the graduates of Middle School by recalling fond memories and the distinctive traits of each student. Mr. Krikor Soukiassian, who is the homeroom teacher of the graduating twelfth graders, invited all the graduates of high school onto the stage of the hall and congratulated them for their hard work and for their acceptance to various well-respected universities. A touching slideshow of the twelfth graders' journey through the years at the school followed; the students cheered as they remembered their fond memories at TCA Arshag Dickranian School. Walter and Laurel Karabian Hall was filled with an air of celebration with music, dance, food and drinks.

The most exciting part of the evening came during the naming of the Prom King, Queen, Prince and Princess. The Prom King and Queen of class of 2008, Hovig Najarian and Mary Alexanian, were happy to crown Ruben Khachadryan as the Prom King and Narine Sulian as the Prom

Queen of class of 2009. As for the crowning of the graduates of Middle School, the Prom Prince and Princess of class of 2008, Harout Seropian and Alice Haytayan, were happy to be the first ones to congratulate Razmig Gasparian as the Prom Prince and Lucy Bambalyan as the Prom Princess of 2009.

Located at 1200 North Cahuenga Blvd., Los Angeles, the TCA Arshag Dickranian Armenian School is a federally tax exempt, Pre-K to 12th grade private educational institution. For more information visit www.dickranianschool.org.

###