WASC Committee's Comments about TCA ADS

The WASC Accreditation Committee visited TCA Arshag Dickranian School from March 18th to 21st. The committee was impressed with our school. Here are some of the comments they made:

"The school is to be commended for its dedication to educating Armenian-American children and preparing them for a productive life in Armenian-American society."

"The school provides a warm and caring environment where students and parents are comfortable, safe and nurtured."

"There is an overwhelming support system throughout the school community, a feeling of 'This is everybody's school!'"

The school's clear, consistent vision to prepare students to be 'law-abiding educated Armenian-Americans' is directed by a highly qualified staff supported by a devoted group of parents."

"Elementary teachers work closely together across multiple grade levels yielding coordinated planning so that all students progress smoothly from grade to grade."

"TCA Arshag Dickranian School offers a challenging curriculum in both English and Armenian at all grade levels."

"The school provides a safe, caring, substance-free environment."

"Students who attend TCA ADS have the opportunity to participate in wide variety of curricular and co-curricular activities."

"The administration and faculty develop programs that effectively support and assist in student learning."

"The PTO helps provide equipment, material and technology to enable student learning."

"The PTO serves a vital role in the life of the school, works tirelessly through numerous activities to support the school financially."

"This is an amazing school I am very much impressed."
