TCA Arshag Dickranian School 30th Anniversary Gala Banquet on April 2

Los Angeles, February 7, 2011 - This year marks the 30th anniversary of the Tekeyan Cultural Association Arshag Dickranian School. This momentous milestones being celebrated by a series of student functions throughout the scholastic year, topped by the upcoming 30th Anniversary Gala Banquet to be held at the banquet hall of the Taglyan Cultural Center on Saturday April 2, 2011.

The event is under the auspices of His Eminence Archbishop Hovnan Derderian, Primate of the Western Diocese, having Mr. Hmayak Baltayan, a patron of the school, as the banquet's Guest of Honor.

The highlight of the program will be a video presentation of the thirty year success story of Arshag Dickranian School, which opened its door in the fall of 1981 and eventually grew to become a Pre-K through 12 grade full pledged learning institution, giving its first crop of high school graduates in 1990. Today the school takes pride in the hundreds of alumni who, after graduating from ADS, have pursued higher education and eventually become career professionals and businessmen Mr. Hmayak Baltayan.

Banquet Guest of Honor Mr. Hmayak Baltayan

Traditionally hosted by the PTO, the historic significance of this year's celebration has prompted the organizers to include past PTO members in order to give more sparkle to the event. A souvenir booklet will also be published to mark the occasion.

The 30th anniversary celebration of Dickranian School is one event not to miss. Patrons, friends, parents and alumni, who have had a share in molding the reputable image of Arshag Dickranian School, including those who credit Armenian schools for preparing our leaders of tomorrow are urged to mark April 2 on their calendars to attend the gala banquet.
